VOL. LIX: No. 30. REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1919 ESTABLISHED 1859

AT HOME WITH THE WILD DUCK IN RICE FIELDS OF CALIFORNIA

By CLAUDE FOX

After having for forty successive winters listened to the call of the wild and pursued with unremitting energy and extreme pleasure the swift-winged birds of the marsh-land I realized, and was undoubtedly justified in so doing, that during that period of time countless thousands of wild duck and geese had passed before my vision, the exact number of which I would not dare to calculate, and at the same time the opportunity had been given to associate with a small army of trigger pullers, all bent on the same mission as myself, but not until October 16th of this year, when the season for wild duck and goose shooting opened, did I become aware of the enormous quantity of wild water fowl that affords the sport of kings within the confines of the state of California.

On that morning, in the vicinity of Colusa, as the first streaks of coming dawn heralded the approach of another day and set out in bold relief the rugged peaks of the Marysville Buttes rising majestically from the floor of one of the richest valleys in the world, one thousand men, with the aid of pumps, automatic and double-barreled shot guns turned loose upon the feathered habitants of the tulles, thereby breaking with reckless impunity as though it had never been written, the law which provides that shooting shall not commence until one-half hour before sunrise, and culminating in a bombardment, the like of which I had never heard before ,and which brought vividly back to the mind of one of my companions, Henry Bullivant, the two years he had spent "over there" driving back the devilish Hun that liberty might still live throughout the earth.

I had heard and read much concerning the counties of Glenn, Colusa and Yolo; of the wonderful productiveness of the soil, of their handsome homes and model farms, of their beautiful public buildings, their wealth and general prosperity, together with the fact which was heralded far and wide, that all three were teeming with wild ducks and geese and were a perfect sportsman's paradise. But upon one occasion, some years ago, had I visited that section of our state. At that time in company with the late C. D. Haywards, it was my good fortune to participate in a wild goose hunt at Willows, but as we went north and returned by rail during the night little opportunity was given me to comprehend much concerning the country through which we passed. Therefore when a month ago I received an invitation from Henry and Eddie Bullivant, who have relatives at Woodland, to accompany them to that place on a duck hunt I accepted with an avidity only equalled by a hungry trout snapping at a nice fat angle worm.

Leaving here the morning of the 15th at 4:30 a. m. with Ed. at the wheel of his Chevrolet, we were soon slipping along the almost deserted highway toward Mountain View and within a brief space of time turned to the eastward and passed through the sleepy villages of Alviso and Milpitas. A couple of jack rabbits scurried along the road in the glare of the headlights, but we were not after that kind of game. Ere the daylight broke we were skimming along through the beautiful Niles canyon, where picnic parties from here have skipped the light fantastic in years just passed and the coming dawn found us gazing upon the old time towns of Pleasanton and Livermore. Here we ran into a thick, mushy bay or tulle fog, from which we did not emerge until nearing Altamount, but on we went through the pass by that name, with its barren unattractive hills rising on both sides, until the crest was reached, and the sun rising in grandeur over the eastern mountains unfolded before our eyes the most beautiful panorama I ever beheld.

There beneath us lay the valley of the San Joaquin, dotted with the white homes of prosperous farmers and spreading as far as the eye could reach the countless acres from which have been taken for years a golden harvest which has astonished the civilized world. Here and there could be seen the tillers of the soil wending their way to their daily labor and naught could be heard but the soft rythmatic purring of the engine as the dark blue ribboned highway slipped behind us at the rate of thirty miles per hour amidst an ever changing scene of prosperity. On and on, ever northward, the man at the wheel never relaxing his vigilance as the traffic of the day made its appearance going north or south, and I soon became aware of the fact that I was riding behind one of the most careful drivers of an automobile that ever held a steering wheel. Before we hardly realized it the busy, bustling city of Stockton was in sight and soon left behind. We had passed broad acres of Egyptian corn waving in the sunlight, and now the scene changed to the land of the grape as we approached Lodi, the Queen City, in my hubmle opinion, through which we passed. With its broad, well kept streets, the modern buildings of the business district and the neat cottages and bungaloes surrounded by beautiful lawns and gardens a picture was presented that shall live long in my memory. There was another feature in connection with this city to which I remove my hat in honest patriotism. Hanging across the highway as we entered was a large sign which read "For One Hundred Per Cent Americans." Should such a sign be placed across Broadway in this city it would cause an exodus of those whom I am willing to be placed on record as saying would never be missed.

At 11 o'clock the dome of the State Capitol building at Sacramento burst into view and we stopped by the roadside to prepare hot coffee and uncheon. Shortly after the noon hour we passed through the city with its beautiful homes and crossed the Yolo Causeway, three miles long and built on concrete piers at a cost of seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars. In another hour after making a run of twenty-five miles over a splendid section of the highway we slowed down as we entered Woodland, the county seat of Yolo county. Here again we found a city of beauty with every evidence of prosperity. Arriving at the court house we were met by Dick Wallace, who is now serving Yolo county as its auditor for the third term. Mr. Wallace is related to the Bullivant family and is a man who may be termed a splendid fellow at first glance. It is safe to assume, unless he sees fit to aspire to a higher office, he will be Yolo's auditor for the balance of his life. We were also introduced to Mr. Saunders, the county clerk, who was a particular friend of the late Joseph H. Nash.

We found that wild ducks were scarce at Woodland owing to the lack of fresh water, but Dick Wallace was determined to stay with us until we found what we came for, so leaving his office in charge of one of Woodland's fairest daughters, and Henry Bullivant, who is a close observer, remarked that all the girls up there were handsome, we were soon at the Wallace home where we met his family and continued our journey northward. Arbuckle was our next stop and then we pressed on to Williams where the famous Rodgers brothers live who are considered the most expert duck and goose hunters in the state. Wallace was well acquainted with them and we found one of the boys at home, head over heels in work. He was, however, a very straight-forward genial man and told us exactly what to do, where to go and what conditions would confront us on the morrow. Subsequent events proved that he was correct. At his direction we drove on to Maxwell, crossed the railroad and down to the farm of a man named Ash, whom we were disappointed at not finding at home. We then played Mr. Rodgers' second card and pushed on to Colusa, through the city to the eastward, out past the Catholic cemetery for five miles and as twilight approached found ourselves in the midst of duckland with thousands of birds working north and south in the fast gathering gloom of the coming night. We were prepared to camp out and within ten minutes our things had been unpacked, a fire started and supper was being prepared, which we partook of with keen appetites after our long ride. As we ate and fixed up our sleeping quarters for the night, beneath the starlit sky, thousands of wild ducks were passing overhead on their way to the rice fields and the musical notes of the speckled breasted brandt lulled us to pleasant dreams of the grand sport awaiting us when morning broke. I had three objects in view in making the journey. The first of course was the hunting of wild ducks, but I also desired to see the country through which we passed and last and for all time settle the much discussed question as to whether the wild duck was an agent of destruction to the rice crop. The grower of that cereal claimed that the webfoots devoured an enormous amount of the new product of this state. The Fish and Game Commission asserted that it was not so and that the wild ducks only consumed the rice that was shaken out by the reed or blackbird.

NO JOB OF OURS

President Wilson says that we are under moral obligations to accept the treaty because "it was laid down according to American specifications." It was not laid down according to American specifications. Thirty-nine members of the United States Senate gave due notice that they would not stand for the league covenant. The negative votes of 33 Senators will defeat a treaty. In order to guard this coutnry against mistakes in diplomacy, the framers of the Constitution provided that a two-thirds vote must be had in order to ratify a treaty. It was the judgment of the framers of the Constitution, and it is the judgment of the country today that if any treaty has the opposition of more than a third of the Senators, wisdom and due caution require that it be not adopted. More than that one-third gave all the nations of the earth notice on the fourth of last March that they disapproved of the league covenant in its present form. The treaty, therefore, was not drawn according to American specifications. It was drawn according to British-Wilsonian specifications, and will be rejected as un-American.

STILL A COMMERCIAL ENEMY

Henry Morgenthau, a large contributor to the Democratic campaign fund and later minister to Turkey, says that "Germany came through this war a perfect dynamo of strength The nation has been compelled into a concentrated mass which is surcharged with energy.' Germany is ready today to regain her lost place in the markets of the world, and due largely to Mr. Morgenthau's campaign contributions the United States has on its statute books a tariff law which will give German products practically a free entrance to American ports.

CRYING NEED FOR PROTECTION

The U. S. Department of Commerce reports that in Belgium expert machinists are receiving a little less than $12 a week, or less than two dollars per day, and work nine hours a day. Carpenters get 23 cents per hour, nine hours a day. Laboring men who helped put the Democratic free trade law on the statute books would do well to study those figures and get ready for the competition they must meet when Belgium factories get going again.

PROTECTION PROGRAM UNDER WAY

The Republican House already has passed five bills for the better protection of certain American industries. They cover coal tar products, tungsten ore and its manufactures, zinc ore and manufactures, shell and pearl buttons, and laboratory glassware, scientific and surgical instruments. The only reason those measures have not been taken up by the Senate and enacted into law is the fact that the treaty with Germany is occupying the time of that body. Senator Penrose, chairman of the Finance Committee, to which they have been referred, has stated that he will not permit interference with the treaty by seeking consideration of the bills. As soon(however, as that momentous document is disposed of we may expect to see all of those protective tariff measures reported from the committee and made law.

JOHNSON SOUNDS IMMIGRATION WARNING

Chairman Albert Johnson of the Immigration Committee of the House is active in warning his colleagues and the country against the dangers of foreign immigration the moment the peace treaty is ratified. He has been informed through official diplomatic dispatches that approximately 10,000,000 Germans and thousands of Austrians are waiting for an opportunity to leave their native countries. Most of them intend to come to the United States, while others have Argentina, Chile, and Peru as their objective. Some of the South American countries already have enacted laws to prevent an influx of undesirable immigrants, and Mr. Johnson is urging that Congress do likewise without loss of time.

A. F. BROWN SECURES DIVORCE

Judge Buck on Thursday afternoon granted an interlocutory decree of divorce to A. F. Brown from his wife, Nora Brown, on the ground of desertion. The Browns were married in Redwood City on May 26, 1912 and separated at Haywards on March 17, 1917. They have no community property. They have one minor child Genevieve ,aged six years, whose custoday was awarded the father. The Browns formerly resided in Redwood City. Jas. T. O'Keefe represented plaintiff at the trial of the case.

THE SUPERVISORS HOLD MEETING

The board of supervisors met in regular session Monday, October 20, 1919, at 10 a. m., there being present Chairman John MacBain, presiding; T. L. Hickey, W. H. Brown and Jos. M. Francis. Absent, Supervisor C. V. Thompson.

Judge Edw. F. Fitzpatrick of Redwood City addressed the board relative to a resolution on file calling for the acceptance of a map of North Fair Oaks Acres in the Third township, action upon which had been deferred on account of the absence of Chairman MacBain. The resolution was adopted, on motion of Brown ,seconded by Hickey.

Attorney James T. O'Keefe of Redwood City, appeared before the board and read a letter from Mrs. Helen Lynch, a teacher in the Millbrae school district, in which she stated that she had not been granted $20 a month increase in salary that had been allowed the other teachers in the county in accordance with the understanding between the board and the teachers last June when a joint meeting was held in Redwood City. Mrs. Lynch stated in the letter that she had taken the matter up with the clerk of the Millbrae disrict and had been informed by him that he had been instructed by the County Superintendent of Schools Roy W. Cloud not to pay the advance in salary, because the ruling of the supervisors did not apply to any teacher who had left one school to accept a position in another. Mrs. Lynch said she had transferred to the Millbrae school this year from the Tunis school, where she had been teaching for three years. She asked the board to take the necessary action in the matter to secure for her the increase.

Attorney O'Keefe stated that he had personally investigated the situation and found that with one execption Mrs. Lynch was the only teacher in the county who did not receive the increase.

While of the opinion that Mrs. Lynch was entitled to the raise in salary, the supervisors did not take any action in the matter, feeling that the question was one that was up to the trustees of the Milbrae school. The communication was ordered filed.

Dr. Taite Thompson, connected with the State Board of Health, addressed the board relative to securing a site in this county for a joint tuberculosis hospital for San Francisco and San Mateo counties. Dr. Thompson first asked the board to rescind an ordinance passed some time ago regulating the establishment of hospitals in the county, so that San Francisco would be permitted to build an institution for tuberculosis patients on some suitable site that might be selected.

Chairman MacBain explained that there would be no necessity or rescinding the present ordinance, as under its provisions, the board can grant a permit for the building of a hospital.

Dr. Thompson submitted a number of plans for tubercular hospitals and she stated that San Francisco now has $100,000 available for an institution of this kind and will provide further funds as soon as a site is selected.

Chairman MacBain further explained to Dr. Thompson that the board some time ago went on record as saying that it would not affiliate with San Francisco in the building of a tuberculosis hospital. The representative of the State Board of Health asked the board of supervisors to reconsider the matter. She said she desired to have something tangible to work upon and asked that in the event of her finding a suitable site for the tubercular hospital in San Mateo county, would the board grant the necessary permit.

Following further discussion, Chairman MacBain announced that the board would take the matter under advisement for several weeks and will then let San Francisco county know whether or not it would be granted a permit.

Ernest Falk, a resident of North Fair Oaks, southeast of Redwood City, addressed a communication to the board in which he complained about the closing of several streets in the tract, preventing him and the members of his family from getting from their home except over Fifth avenue which, he says, is often blocked with freight trains. He said in the letter that Arthur Doppee, who leases the land from the Peninsula Syndicate of Los Angeles, is responsible for the closing of the streets, and he asks that the board take the necessary action to compel the latter to keep the thoroughfare open.

Action in the matter was laid over until the first meeting in November in order to give Supervisor MacBain in whose district the streets in question are located, to look over the situation.

On motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey, the board accepted a deed and plans for Clark avenue in the Runnymede district in the Third township.

A communication was received from the Woman's Club of Runnymede, asking the board to repair Scofield avenue, a small thoroughfare connecting Cooley avenue and the Creek drive leading to Union Drive in the Runnymede district.

On motion of Hickey, seconded by Francis, the board authorized Supervisor MacBain of the Third township to repair the road.

A petition signed by W. A. Brewer and eleven other persons of the county and addressed to the board of supervisors, the trustees of the City of Daly City, District Attorney Swart and Michael Sheehan, sheriff of San Mateo county, was read, calling attention to alleged gambling going on at Daly City and urging the duly constituted authorities of San Mateo county and Daly City to take the necessary steps to stamp out "the undesirable resorts and prosecute the proprietors and the managers if necessary."

District Attorney Swart, to whom the petition was referred at the meeting, stated that at no time had any person or persons come to him to take the matter up or to present any evidence of the alleged gambling situation in the north end. Swart assured the board that if any signer of the petition, or any other persons will come to him and present tangible evidence of illegal gambling, he will go the limit in conducting investigations. The district attorney said that the petition presented had no standing and charged that the person responsible for its circulation was trying to work up a newspaper story.

The petition was received and ordered filed, on motion of Brown, seconded by Francis, the board taking the stand that it had no jurisdiction in the matter.

Upon the request of Chairman MacBain, the County Social Service Commission was directed to provide for the expenses of sending a county charge to the tuberculosis hospital at Santa Clara county.

County Engineer George A. Kneese presented, plans and specifications for the construction of a reinforced concrete retaining wall on the San Gregorio road, which were accepted, on motion of Francis, seconded by Brown, Mrs. Nash, the clerk, was directed to advertise for bids for the work.

A claim of Powers in the sum of $100 and being for a rebate on a liquor license, was rejected, on motion of Brown, seconded by Hickey.

SALVAGING THE AIR SERVICE

The Republicans of the Senate have added $15,000,000 to the pending deficiency appropriation bill to enable the War eDpartment to purchase 600 additional airplanes. Determined to save the air service from complete demoralization, which has been imminent for some time, the money has been provided for the building of 200 pursuit planes with Liberty Motors, 200 Martin bombers, and 200 experimental pursuit planes. Recent testimony by officers of the air service brought out the fact that at the present time there are no pursuit planes or bombers in the possession of the government, despite the expenditure of a billion and a quarter dollars for the air service during the war. It is estimated that construction of the new planes cannot be completed earlier than fifteen or eighteen months, but it is hoped that real results will be forthcoming even tually now that the war hysteria has gone.

DAMAGE SUIT AGAINST UNITED RAILROADS WAS HEARD LAST WEEK

The damage suit of Mrs. Ella M. Collopy against the United Railroads of San Francisco, was tried before Judge Buck on Tuesday of last week and submitted on briefs. Ross and Ross appeared as the attorneys for the United Railroads while O'Gara and Demartini represented the plaintiff. Mrs. Collopy alleges in her complaint that property near Colma was damaged by the company in putting down tracks near her home, the noise of the passing cars disturbing her slumbers and otherwise it is almost impossible to reside in the neighborhood of the tracks.

Some time ago at the request of the State Highway Commission the board of supervisors of this county bought a strip of land from Mrs. Collopy and soon afterwards compelled the United Railroads to move its tracks from the old route to the property purchased from Mrs. Collopy A deep embankment was cut through the lands and the tracks of the company laid close by. One of Mrs. Collopy's contentions is that the company should have constructed the tracks further from the embankment so that she would not be annoyed by the passing trains. She claims that her property has been damaged to the amount of $20,000, and asks the court to award her that sum.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

The Tonopah Daily Times in a recent issue has this to say about a former resident:

After having spent months in preparation for an extended crusade in behalf of the mining industry of Nevada, Dr. White Wolf, the venerable old prospector and miner, has completed the details and itinerary of his invasion of the large eastern market centers.

Characteristic of his nature, the doctor has quietly accumulated a mass of geological data, maps, surveys and some 600 or 700 pounds of rare ore specimens, mainly from Nye county properties, which he will take east with him.

White Wolf goes under the auspices of the Divide-Tonopah Chamber of Mines and has prepared a series of lectures covering a wide range of topics. He will take with him three reels of moving pictures, including the film made here of the Divide mines, to which will be added 1000 more feet filmed recently of many adjacent camps and properties, including, Arrowhead, Bellehelen, Gold Crater, the Gibraltar and others.

The moving picture medium of advertising is now in universal use throughout the east, and now comes Nevada's turn, combined with interesting and instructive lectures by a half-blood Choctaw Indian miner and the exhibition of rare mineral ore specimens.

White Wolf is no stranger in the large eastern cities. He will visit New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago and all other important financial centers. Thus will wide interest be created and more capital attracted for the development of the mineral deposits and particularly of the silver properties of Nye county.

Dr. White Wolf will leave via San Francisco in a few days.

Another interesting engagement announced Saturday was that of Miss Pearl Delger and Joseph N. Barnett of Los Angeles. Miss Delger is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Delger or San Francisco. They will close their home in Menlo Park, where they have been passing the summer, and return to their town house this week. During the war Miss Delger devoted much of her time to Red Cross and canteen work.

Barnett is a civil engineer. He returned a month ago from France, where he served for two years as lieutenant with the 2nd engineering corps.

The wedding will take place in the early part of next year. The news was told at a delightful tea which Mrs. Ruth Haley gave in honor of Miss Delger at the St. Francis hotel Saturday afternoon. The mother of the pretty bride-elect was formely Miss Prior, daughter of the late J. K. Prior, a pioneer of Menlo Park.

Ralph Smith, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith, arrived from Siberia during the week. He is the only young man from Menlo Park that served in the expedition. He has been away for over a year. He was glad to get away from the frozen fields of Siberia.

Mr. Marvin, a chauffeur for Mrs. Julia Fleischacker at Atherton, attempted suicide last week at Palo Alto by drinking a dose of mercury. He was rushed to the hospital. He will recover. Mr. Marvin has been estranged from his wife for some time and went to Palo Alto to affect a reconcilliation with her at the telephone office where she is employed. It appears he was unsuccessful and immediately took the potion. Mr. Marvin is spoken of as a very exemplary young man and is well liked here. He has recovered and is back at his work.

The people of Runnymede have made war on the rodents. The edict has gone forth and from now on rats will be exterminated at a rapid rate. It appears that the government maintains a garbage dump at the bay shore adjoining Runnymede. This has been the breeding place for rodents and rats have practically overrun the town. They attack the chickens and Runnymede has become alarmed. A relentless war will be continued until the rat is exterminated.

Mrs. Blanton, with her husband, who recently leased the John Doyle cottage on Pine street, had quite an experience last week. She was at the depot with her children enjoying thes unshine and on returning home discovered that she had left her purse containing $35 on a seat at the station. She immediately returned but the purse was gone. On her first visit she noticed a lady dressed in dark clothing walking up and down the station. Mrs. Blanton sought her and found the lady as she was about to post a notice concerning the finding of the purse. Mrs. Blanton was handed the money and she went her way rejoicing.

Henry Cowell of University Heights has returned to New York to pursue his musical career. He will study with Charles Seegar and Carl Ruggles. Mr. Cowell is a musical prodigy who has already won fame as a pianist and composer.

Major Bramstead in cargo of Camp Fremont has notified the local fire department that its services would no longer be required after the first of the month. The government has paid the salary of three firemen on duty all the time and after the first of the month these salaries will be stopped. The fire commissioners have decided to reduce the force to two men.

Weeden brothers have begun the construction of a neat dwelling for Mrs. B. T. Lacey at Atherton on the site of the old home recently destroyed by fire. It will cost between $5000 and $6000.

An eleven from St. Joseph's Parochial school defeated the Scout Boys of Redwood City last Saturday at a game of rugby by a score of 28 to 0. A return game will be played today.

Leo Walsh distinguished himself last Sunday at La Honda in riding bulls at the Rodeo. He successfully rode three bulls, winning first prize.

Mr. Schenkel has leased the Duff and Doyle house on Golder avenue and has moved into it with his family. Mr. Schenkel has erected a garage in the rear of the building.

Whalen appointed guardian of the person and estate of Catherine Lipp, widow of the late William Lipp, who died on September 26, 1919. SMOOT SAFEGUARDS AMERICAN INDUSTRIES

Senator Reed Smoot has introduced an anti-dumping bill designed to prevent Germany or any other country from selling goods in the United States at less than cost in order to destroy American business. In presenting the measure to the Senate Mr. Smoot called attendtion to the fact that there are today in Germany ports, ready for export to this country enough dyestuffs to supply all our needs for two years in the future. If they should be brought in here and sold at a low price our dyestuff industry, built up during the war, would be speedily destroyed. Surgical instruments the Senator cites as another product, practically our entire supply of which was imported from Germany before the war. Now the domestic demand is met by the American manufacurers, but already many orders are pending for German goods at prices that make it absolutely impossible for the American manufacturer to compete.
